

Ten Forward

Official Publication of the USS Renegade NCC-2547

From the CO Vice Admiral John Hoppa

Crew,

I hope everyone who attended the December meeting/Holiday party had a great time! At the January meeting we will be deciding on our Anniversary Dinner which will be held on February 18th.

The Toyhio Toy show will be on February 11th. We need to build up our inventory again. I'm sure we will have some more ceramic painting dates at Warneke's. After Toyhio we will have the Super Toy event in April. I'm not sure what this year brings yet but we need to be ready for anything

We will be reminding all members when their Starfleet and also USS Renegade due are coming due. It is a brand new year for the Renegade starting in February. Why February? Because February 14th is our Launch date back in 1989.

We will also be presenting some Awards at the Anniversary Dinner next month. The Command Staff will be meeting to discuss them sometime this month. We will also take a look at any of those who's promotion that are coming due as well.

We will be setting our budget for the year and I will be presenting the Treasury report to at the next meeting with all our expenses.

Now that we have the parade float we need to decide which parades we will be doing this year. We had a great time in the Austintown 4th of July parade and we can do it again this year.

I'm also taking ideas for activities for the meetings. If you have any ideas please let me know. If you set it up you will get some promotion points.

I hope to see everyone at the next meeting!

RAdm. Janice Graham- First Officer's Log: Random Thoughts:

Why doesn't someone invent a fridge that will run exactly as long as you had the door open? If I open the door for five seconds, it has to run the full 45 minutes to replace that air. If it ran only those five seconds, now THAT would be a smart fridge.

When I was a kid, I'd be out in the snow and turning blue from the cold, but when Mom called me in, I'd shout back through chattering teeth, "I'm not cold!" Now when I look out at snow, I say, "Ooo, pretty. Now turn it off." And, "Do I have to go out in that? Why shovel it? It'll melt...eventually."

What kid doesn't hate to take naps? "But I'm not tired! I don't want to take a nap!" Now it's, "Please, can I take a nap now?!"

All these years later, I still hold the opinion that the VOYAGER episode "Fury" was ALL wrong. Surely they could have come up with a better idea to bring Jennifer/Kes back for one more show. What was wrong? Ask and I'll give you the two and a half PAGES of wrongs.

What's your least-favorite episode(s) of each of the Trek series (that you've seen, of course)? TOS: Spock's Brain (so totally stupid); TNG: Genesis (another stupid episode; Barclay devolving into an arachnid?! The two species aren't even "almost" related!); DS9: Haven't really decided on that one, though I did get irritated by the long drawn-out Dominion War; VGR: Fury. ENG: hard to pick just one...okay, Malcolm pregnant?? Excuse me?? He doesn't have the necessary internal equipment for that to happen, and to say he sudden does is ridiculous.

What "things" were irritating to you? Such as Enterprise had many lines that went against established timelines. The "Ferengi" in one episode: they got around that with, "But we never say they're Ferengi." So? Ferengi weren't known until Picard's time. If Kirk had known of them you can bet there would have been some Ferengi kids with suspiciously human characteristics.

Enough from me.

Capt. Lisa Eckenrode- Hi! Hope everyone had a nice Christmas and a Happy New Year! Saw Billy over the holiday and he sends holiday greetings too. The Psych department accompanied the Medical Department on a trip to Kraynak's on December 10th. We had a very good time and had a really good Mexican dinner after. Otherwise, things are pretty quiet.
